Companies E, G, H and I, of the Third Regiment, lost 160 men.

A monster shark whose stomach contained part of a human body was killed at Keyport, N. J., Thursday.

The rubber-necks have discovered that the Deutschland is loading up with rubber for the return trip.

British reports now claim that two more German dreadnaughts were destroyed in the Jutland battle, the Kaiser and the Kron Prince.

The New York hoodlums who left the train to loot stores in Cleveland ought to be sent back to the slums. The United States cannot afford to beat the Mexicans at their own game.

Gen. Pershing's headquarters have been moved to within 60 miles of the border and it is believed that he will withdraw his troops from Mexico in the near future.

President Wilson will shortly name as Justice of the Supreme Court either Judge J. H. Clarke, of Cleveland, or Judge Victor J. Dowling of New York.

Although four bathers have been killed and others wounded by sharks in New Jersey waters since July 2, the Federal Bureau of Fisheries is still expressing doubt that sharks are ever found "in temperate waters."

Lloyd-George is feeling good over late events. He says: "We have crossed the watershed, and now victory is beginning to flow in our direction. This change is due to the improvement in our equipment."

Dr. Fred G. LaRue was Thursday appointed Superintendent of the Western State Hospital, Dr. Louise B. Trigg, of Glasgow, succeeds U. G. Davis as third assistant physician, and Samuel Byars, of Elkton, succeeds W. J. Chiles, of Hopkinsville, as steward. All are Democrats.

No information has come of the return of the 49 Co. D boys who were failed. They are expected home as soon as the question of getting clothing to replace the uniforms they wore away is settled. Fenton Cunningham, of the Kentuckian force, in a private letter says he passed.

FAREWELL TO FAVORITE SONS

Smithland Gives Going-away Picnic Dinner to Dr. LaRue and Mr. Grassham.

The people of Smithland gave a complimentary picnic dinner Tuesday in honor of Dr. Fred G. LaRue and Hon. Chas. C. Grassham, both of whom are going away. Dr. LaRue will come here August 1 to enter upon his duties as Superintendent of the Western State Hospital. Mr. Grassham is removing to Chicago as counsel for a big corporation. A welcome address to home comers was made by Hon. J. R. Wells and after dinner was served there was a program of addresses. Hon. Jno. L. Grayott, Jas. C. Utterback, of Paducah, and Chas. H. Wilson made speeches, after which there were responses by the honorees.

VALEDICTORY OF DR. LARUE.

"Mr. Toastmaster, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"You can never know the magnitude of my emotions of this hour. Surrounded by this magnificent company of friends, who so lavishly bestow upon me eulogiums and fulsome praise, my heart swells within, a crimson tinge paints my cheek, tears dim my eyes, thoughts crowd my mind and clamor for utterance, with no language adequate, with which to clothe my response.

"If I had ever doubted your friendship, or ever failed to appreciate you, this occasion brings to me a vision—a revelation—and greater cause and desire to cherish your memory, because of the exquisite pleasure this hour brings to me.

"My life began, and my lot was cast among you, and without interruption, my efforts have been directed by the impulse of an honest desire, stimulated by the whisperings of an inward conscience, to render a genuine public service and thus acquit myself and sustain the reputation of my profession.

"When called to your homes on missions of helpfulness. I have shared your anxiety, mingled my hopes with yours, ministered to every need with painstaking care, partaking of your hospitality and sharing your sorrows.

HAS FOUGHT FOR HEALTH.

"With the vision of life and health widening before the public horizon, and knowing the thoughtless and dangerous habits of many friends, solicitude anxiety has often moved me to take decided and vigorous action and make determined efforts to conserve the public health, in the face of stubborn opposition.

"In dealing with health conditions I have often been compelled to resort to harsh measures against acquired habits, because, in dealing with disease, we must also deal with prejudice and superstition, neither of which can stamp out maladies, nor meet the demands of the sick room.

"The time given and the means used in acquiring my literary and medical education and surgical training would have been in vain, if I should fail to urge the plain duties of sanitation.

"For my professional conduct along this line, I have no apology, for I have been guided by no selfish motive, but by a desire to promote the public health and the people's happiness.

SHALL RETAIN CITIZENSHIP.

"Through the generosity of Governor A. O. Stanley, and the honorable board of control, I am the recipient of the appointment as superintendent of the Western State Hospital at Hopkinsville, the duties of which position call me from among you, but I shall remain a citizen of Smithland, for I want to continue to be identified with my friends here and throughout Livingston county.

"I am not unmindful of the presence here of our distinguished guests, who came to partake of your genuine hospitality and enjoy, with me, this social hour, I feel honored by their presence, and hope the fires kindled here, may continue to warm and weld the affections of these guests and their entertainers, after our separation.

"To the managers and contributors,

TO PRESERVE CITY'S HEALTH

Officers Start Movement; Water Works Will Install New Plant.

STATE ISSUES ORDERS.

Care Should Be Exercised By Citizens To Keep Off Sickness.

The most urgent measures for precaution against germ diseases, carried by flies and caused by uncleanness in alleys, streets and places where water is allowed to stand, are advocated by County Health Officer Dr. J. H. Rice and City Physician J. W. Harned.

The city water works has fallen in line in a movement for better health in Hopkinsville and will install a new purification plant for its water. This will guarantee the excellence of the city water supply. The plant will be like those recommended by the Board of the state. Superintendent Tom Morris has been working hard to get the new plant. It will be one of the biggest moves of past years to insure healthy conditions in the city. The water supplied by the city water works will be free from all impurities. The plant will be a modern one, using chemicals in the filtration process.

The unusually large number of epidemics and diseases throughout the nation this year and the common danger of disease at this time of year make steps to guard against preventive diseases expedient. Advice to boil water, kill flies, keep premises free from filth of any kind, don't let water stand and keep alleys ways cleaned, is the substance of the orders given to the city and county health officers.

A proclamation from the State Board of Health has been issued regarding civic sanitary movements and the local authorities stated yesterday that they will do everything in their power to carry out the most minute details of the order. The order in part follows:

"The State Board of Health directs that the health and civil authorities of every city and town in Kentucky take immediate steps to clean all alleys, streets, tenements, public places and vacant lots and, by rigid and systematic inspection, to require the cleaning and lining of all back yards, cellars and premises, and the thorough screening of homes, although in the presence of this emergency no good citizen should wait for the law to force him to an evident duty for the protection of his family and community."

I wish to express my thanks for this well arranged program, and the pleasing manner in which you have rendered it, and served the luncheon. To the toastmaster and speakers, I extend many thanks for the eloquent words spoken and the good impressions made on my heart, and to the ladies, who have blessed and sanctified us with their presence, I acknowledge my inability to find expression, with which to measure my feelings of gratitude, but promise you, that I shall depart from this pleasant place with a determination to measure up to a higher standard of citizenship, a nobler manhood, and with renewed love for you, and all the people of my native county, Livingston. I thank you."

SHARK KILLS TWO BATHERS

Lad Swimming in Raritan Bay and Rescuers Attacked by Man-Eating Fish.

Mattawan, N. J., July 14.—Lester Stillwell 12 years old, was killed by a man-eating shark while bathing in an arm of Raritan bay near here. Stanley Fisher, 24 years old, who went to his aid, was so badly injured in a struggle with the sea monster that he died while being taken to a Long Island hospital. Joseph Dunn, 12 years old, bathing some distance away in the same inlet, was attacked by a shark, and one of his legs was so badly lacerated it probably will have to be amputated.

This is the third time within two weeks that sharks have claimed the lives of bathers along the New Jersey coast. Charles E. Vansant, a youth of Philadelphia, was killed by one off Beach Haven, N. J., on July 2. Chas. Bruder, of Spring Lake, N. J., was attacked and both of his legs taken off by a shark on July 6. He died while men who went to his rescue were carrying him ashore.

A dozen or more boys who also were bathing in the inlet heard Stillwell's screams for help. Fisher who was standing on the bank, went to the rescue. He had gone only a few feet when the shark attacked him, taking a piece out of one thigh.

In spite of his wound, Fisher caught the boy up in his arms and had started for shore when the shark renewed the attack. Burdened as he was, Fisher was helpless and the shark snapped off his leg. Fisher released his hold on Stillwell and himself sank beneath the surface, unconscious.

Headless of the danger another boy sprang into the inlet and dragged Fisher out. No trace of young Stillwell was found and it is believed he was devoured by the shark.

The Dunn boy, according to persons who were standing on the bank of the inlet, also was attacked soon after going into the water. An older brother and another boy went to his rescue. They succeeded in driving off the shark, but not until after the younger Dunn's leg had been torn almost to shreds from the knee down. He is expected to recovered.

EUROPE IN DEATH GRIP

French and British Prepare Another Smash--Russians Silent on Great Battle.

HOLDING BACK THE NEWS.

German Paper Says The Operations Now On Will Settle The War.

London, July 14.—There was very little news of the "battle of Europe" a term commonly applied to describe the new co-ordinated entente offensive on all fronts. But the British official statement tonight shows that heavy infantry and artillery fighting has been in progress and has enabled the British to maintain their pressure on the Germans and advance their line at various points.

The British forces at Mametz wood are within 300 yards of the German second line. The French forces are separated only by the narrow Somme valley from the German third line through Peronne and Mont St. Quentin and both armies are doubtless engaged in preparations for the next attack.

Maj. Morant in the Berliner Tageblatt, expresses the opinion that the coming days will be decisive of the issue of the whole war.

The reticence of the Russian official communications of the present moment judging by precedent, indicate the progress of some important movement which will only be announced when the operations are concluded. The Austrian and German representatives show that Gen. von Bothmer is still holding on the region of Tarnopol, although the two wings of the Russian advance are forty miles beyond Tarnopol, which seems to show that Gen. Bothmer feels secure in his line of retreat. Heavy fighting continues on the Stokhod line and north-west of Bucacz.

The Cologne Gazette foreshadows the introduction in September of a butter and fat card throughout the empire providing for three ounces a head each week and probably an egg card, entitling the holder to two eggs a week.

The most violent fighting in the great entente allied offensive on the eastern front where Gen. Brussloff's tremendous blows are being continued without apparent lull or hesitation. Temporarily at least, the Austro-Germans appear to have halted the Russian advance along the Stokhod. Both sides are reported to be hurling huge reinforcements into this titanic struggle, the prize of which is the immensely important strategic town of Kovel.

Further to the south, a battle of almost equal intensity is raging on the lower Stripa, where the Russians are striking north in an effort to crush Gen. Bothmer and flank the entire Austro-German line.

The Austrians admit that the Russians penetrated Gen. Bothmer's front at some points, but assert they were driven out again in counter-attacks. The Russians claim to have taken 2,000 prisoners, but made no mention of a gain in territory.

Bathing Unpopular.

Three sharks are believed to have been wired off in Raritan bay. Observers say that at least half a dozen have been seen. Terror has seized the multitudes who have bathed at beaches along the New York and New Jersey coasts and comparatively few persons now venture into the water. At Asbury Park and other New Jersey resorts, wire nets have been strung around the bathing areas. News was brought in by Anthony Lundy, captain of a fishing boat who said his party of New York fishermen had clubbed to death a nine foot shark weighing 450 pounds while cruising off Elberon, N. J.

HOPPERS DANCE AWAY IN LEAD

Bill Schwartz and His New Men Make Big Difference in the Team.

Hopkinsville, the long shot that tips are out on to go over in the second race on the Kitty circuit, with Bill Schwartz up, has shot off from the post and taken a lead that looks good. The team has undergone a transformation for the better and it now seems as if nobody can head the Hoppers.

The twin brothers, of the Jonnard family, who kept the prep schools ablaze when they did the battery work for Montgomery-Bell last year, worked out with the best results anybody could hope for in Thursday's game. The game ended 7 to 1.

The new men are making good and adding life to the congregation of diamonds that are wearing the Hopkinsville uniforms. Hal Hunter and Stevenson, two new outfielders, are doing wonderful stickwork.

Seeks To Break Will.

Washington, July 14.—In an effort to gain full control of the McLean millions, Edward B. McLean has brought suit in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia to break the will of his father, the late John R. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post and the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Young McLean charges that at the time his father prepared the will in contest he was of unsound mind. Elihu Root, former Secretary of State and later Senator of New York, has been retained by McLean to prove this charge against his father.

Under his father's will Edward B. McLean was given only a life interest in the estate, which has been estimated as high as $20,000,000. He was given no control whatsoever over the properties, the trusteeship of which was placed in the hands of a local trust company.

"SOLDIERS' WIVES."

One hundred "brides" arrived at Ft. Thomas Tuesday and will accompany the boys of I. Company, Third Regiment, from Murray, to the border, says John W. Petrie. Other soldier boys there envy the guardsmen from Western Kentucky, but the latter are guarding their "wives" with great care. All the "war brides" of I. Company boys came from their home town. Capt. E. W. Clark received the consignment and distributed the brides—it mattered not if certain men in his company were married, they got another housewife just the same.

The solution of the whole matter is this: The girls of Murray appreciated the fact that brothers, husbands and sweethearts were here at the mobilization camp without anyone to sew on needed buttons, without anyone to sew up ripped buttonholes, without anyone to "put the stitch in time" in "holey" socks. So they prepared little silken bags and filled each with needles, thread, scissors, safety pins and other articles of similar nature, calculated to take the place of a woman in the home. And the official name of such a bag is a "soldier's housewife." The wives were sent direct to Capt. Clark and he distributed them to members of his company. The presentation was made last night when the boys assembled to answer retreat call. Needless to say, hearty cheers greeted presentation of evidence that the folks at home still are thinking of their soldier boys.

—Commercial Appeal.

The Prohibitionists have decided to tender the nomination for President next week to Henry Ford.

On recommendation of Representative Kincheloe, President Wilson appointed Francis B. Brown, postmaster of Morganfield.

The President Tuesday agreed to accept the resignation of Major General Goetz as governor of Panama canal at an early date to be fixed by the general.

Among the commissioned officers who failed to pass the required physical examination at Fort Thomas were the following Louisville men: Major
Chas. W. Hibbit, Capt. Thos. M. Dorsey,
Capt. R. C. Norman, Lieut.
Preston Vance, Capt. Chas. A. Wickliffe,
Capt. Curtis M. Colston, Capt.
Herbert Kinsolving. About one-third of the privates failed.

Health officers are now more optimistic of their ability to control the epidemic of infantile paralysis in New York. There were fewer deaths in the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, only fourteen being reported. The number of new cases in the 24 hour period, however, increased to 103. Thus far the epidemic has caused 238 deaths and the number of infected is 1,083.

For the first time, so far as known,
a pastor has gone on a strike at Charleroi, Pa. The Rev. V. Kushinoff, in charge of St. John the Baptist Russian Orthodox church, failed to appear at services last Friday. This occasioned comment, but not until Sunday, when he refused to hold services, did it become known that he really was striking.
He says his full salary is not paid promptly.

DISTILLED WATER

Is Making an Instantaneous Hit With the Public.

Hopkinsville's newest industry, the sale of distilled water for drinking purposes, is making a start very gratifying to its enterprising projectors.
A great many diseases are traceable directly to impure drinking water and to furnish absolutely pure water at a nominal cost is the purpose of the Ellis Ice & Coal Co. They have installed a complete distilling plant and inaugurated a daily delivery service at a price so low that all can afford its use. The idea is warmly endorsed by the physicians and the public generally will extend a liberal patronage to the new enterprise.

"Laws of the Medes and Persians."
Among the ancients, the law of the Medes and Persians was regarded as unalterable and irrevocable, hence the expression has come to mean something permanent. In the Bible the expression is referred to in Daniel 4: 15: "Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king es-tablisheth may be changed."

GETTING READY FOR GREAT FAIR

Preparations and Plans Are Being Made by Committees In Charge.

NO NIGHT HORSE SHOW

Big Awards Offered In Display and Speed Rings.

The Pennyroyal Fair, which will be the central attraction in the amusement line in the county this year, with a past history of three splendid successes to back it up, will open in full swing the last week in August, with added attractions and interest to make it bigger and better than ever.

For the past week Secretary John Richards has been busy getting the programs and catalogs made out. The programs for the entire fair have been completed with the exception of a few minor details and the early start will give opportunity for a more complete arrangement of details and perfection in the plans for the fair than has ever been had.

The most important change in the program that has been announced by the program committee is that this year the nightly horse show programs will be eliminated. The horse show will be retained on the program and prizes will be awarded as in the past for the best horses but the show ring will be conducted in connection with the day program.

A fine list of awards has been arranged for the prize ring; some of the best horses in the state will be seen in the display performances at the fair.

An important announcement is that the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association will give a prize of $50 for 1916 foals registered in the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Register. The money will be divided into three awards. There must be ten entries in the contest in order that the prizes will be given.

Since the original offer of the Saddle Horse Breeders' Association, which was only open to horses of Christian county, another communication has come stating that the offer will be amended opening the awards to owners of adjoining counties in which no fair is held.

In the speed ring, with running, trotting and pacing races on the program, $5,000 in purses will be offered. Some fine horses will be seen on the track at the fair. The programs are versatile, offering everything from the feature race, the Pennyroyal Derby, one mile around, with five to start, worth $100, to mule races.

A number of important changes in the heads of the departments has been made since last year. The present chairman of the divisions of the activities at the fair, are as follows:

Amusements—V. L. Gates.
Buildings—John Metcalfe.
Concessions—W. M. Hancock.
Finance—M. C. Forbes.

tures on the program are:

MISSIONS.

The regular meeting of the W. M.
S. of Olivet was conducted Thursday, June 22, by Mrs. V. M. Acree. After the song, prayer and Scripture reading she gave an interesting talk.

Mrs. McFarland discussed "World Missions and Our Part in Them," telling what had been done in missions, showing how slow but sure advances had been made, but the time was ripe for greater achievements, and the call was clear and urgent for all "soldiers of the cross" to awaken to the needs that are world-wide.

Mrs. J. F. Dixon in a very forceful talk made clear that the "Modern Missionary" must be of surpassing ability and unbounded love to his heavenly brother, and all were challenged to rally to the same call.

Several members told of events in Foreign fields viz: Turkey and India; China, Japan, Korea, Mexico and Latin-America.

The Bible study "The Cross" was treated in a masterly way by Mrs. C.
W. Crenshaw. She showed careful study and gave the Society a learned discourse worthy of some of our best preachers.

After prayer and singing with feeling "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," the meeting was given over to the President for the transaction of business.

Mrs. Broadus letter to the Society was read. She asked that each member of the Society bear a part in liquidating the F. M. debt, $3,000 being the amount apportioned to women of Kentucky. The members present responded liberally to the appeal.

The Society agreed to resume its long neglected sewing and will soon meet and fill out an order for some comforts.

Attention was called to the fact that there would be the annual election of officers at the July meeting. The present incumbent of the Presidential chair requested her name not to be used by the nominating committee, as she had served the Society to the best of her ability for eight years and she feels that the honor and responsibility should be conferred on some other one.

Of Interest To Every Farmer

"Buy an Iron Mule Now"

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 11th, 1916

FORBES MANUFACTURING CO.,

Hopkinsville, Ky.

GENTLEMEN:

I bought from you an 8-16 Oil Tractor, manufactured by International Harvester Co., Chicago, Ills. I took this Mogul engine to my farm the 31st day of May and I used the engine in preparing fifty-three acres of land, plowing, discing and harrowing. I plowed this ground, harrowed it three times and disced it once. In addition I harrowed fifteen acres in another field.

The total cost of fuel consumption was 370 gallons of Kerosene at a cost of 9 1/2c per gallon. The total cost of fuel was $35.45. The cost of the total labor was $15.00, making a total cost of preparing the land $50.45.

This engine works in a most satisfactory manner. I believe that this work was done cheaper than I could have done it had someone furnished the teams free of charge and myself to feed the teams during the progress of the work.

I regard this engine as practical and economical for farm use and am well pleased with my engine.

Yours Truly,
S. J. LEAVELL.

FOREST NOTES

About 700 million feet of timber was cut on the National Forests in 1916.

Experiments with jack pine have shown that it is well suited for making kraft paper. On some of the National Forests is a tree used to plant land which is too poor to grow other timber.

A new fire-fighting tool has been invented by a Forest ranger in California which consists of an interchangeable hoe and rake. It is said to be the best tool of the sort yet devised.

The use of osage orange for making dyes promises to be extensive. The Forest Products Laboratory is making a census which shows that the supply of the wood is more than ample to meet present needs.

In parts of the West the Forest Service is co-operating with the Weather Bureau in distributing weather forecasts to the settlers. By the use of Forest Service telephones many isolated sections are reached, which could not otherwise receive the reports. Sheepmen owning bands of lambing ewes will be particularly benefited, as the warnings enable them to get their sheep under shelter and avoid the losses sometimes caused by late spring storms.

Completely Exonerated.

Lexington, Ky., July 11.—The Coroner's jury this morning completely exonerated Harry Giovannoli, editor of the Lexington Leader, of any blame for the death of John Caldwell, an aged printer of Danville, Ky., who was struck by Mr. Giovannoli's automobile here yesterday, resulting in injuries from which the unfortunate man died two hours later at a local hospital. Five witnesses testified, all agreeing Caldwell crossed the path of the approaching automobile and then suddenly turned back, putting himself directly in front of the machine when too late for the car to be stopped.

135 NEGROES LEAVE CITY

Men Will Take Construction Jobs During Summer Months.

TO GO IN TWO COMPANIES

Local Man Raises One Crowd; Transportation Fails Thursday.

An exodus of negroes, in two bands, one forty-five, the other ninety strong, leaving Hopkinsville for the summer to take up jobs on railroad construction work in Rochester, N. Y. and Palmer, Ind., took place at the L. & N. depot last night at 5:30.

The men who are leaving claim they are offered from $2 to $3 a day and transportation. The crowd that will embark for Indiana was raised by Charlie Bond, a negro workman of this city. They were at the train Thursday night intending to leave, but the transportation failed to come. It arrived yesterday. They will work in Palmer, near Chicago, on the Erie railroad.

J. A. Durning, of New York, was in Hopkinsville Friday and got up men to go to Rochester to do construction work on the lake there.

Other emigrations have already occurred. It has already been estimated that over two hundred had left the city, some going to the coal mines, others to the cities to do manual labor. Part of the men will return in the fall and others will stay permanently. Yesterday's bands run the number up to three hundred and thirty, approximately.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

My local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also caused out of the ear caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

A MIXED DISPOSITION

By LOUISE OLIVER.

James Porterfield Morgan, known to the world as Jim Morgan, looked at his sister quizzically.

"Madge, do you mean to say that Polly Love is your ideal of a woman?"

"Yes, Jim, dear, bright, wholesome little Polly, with her silly giggle as you call it is my ideal of a woman and I wish you'd marry her."

"Well, I like Polly, of course, but—" he flicked the ash off his cigarette and failed to finish.

"I know what you mean, Jim. Your type is the dashing kind with a disposition like all the months of the year combined. June one instant, April the next and a regular January freeze to follow. Jim, you men make me tired with your queer ideas of women. Take it from me, they aren't the celestial beings you think, any of them—except Polly. She's an angel."

"If she were here she would laugh at your wonderful wit," answered Jim sardonically. "No doubt that's what she's doing now anyway, wherever she is. She's always laughing. And perpetual good humor makes me as much as incessant sunshine."

Had Jim known it, he was right when he said that Polly was laughing. And this was the occasion. That morning a letter had come from Cornelia Graham announcing that she would visit them for a week on her way to Boston.

Cornelia was pretty rich and spoiled and the entire relationship held her in reverential awe.

"Oh, we can't have her with the plasterers and paperhangers here," protested Mrs. Love in a panic. "And the rugs are all up and away at the cleaners, and we've no girl. Of all times for her to come! Why couldn't she wait a week?"

And then Polly giggled. "Isn't it the limit? Well—she isn't waiting, and if I'm not mistaken she's here now, for there's a taxi just stopping at the curb and—behold, milady."

Polly rushed out to the porch. "Hello, Cornelia! You dear! I'm so glad to see you. Come right in, but don't you dare to sit down or you'll ruin that exquisite suit you have on. We look like an accident ward in a hospital—all plastered up."

Cornelia was led through shrouded furniture and buckets of calamine and glue up to the second floor to Polly's room, the only room in the house that hadn't been dismantled.

Then Polly flew to the kitchen to see what she could scare up to eat. "There isn't much," she declared, searching the cupboard. "Here's a can of corn and some salmon, but I believe there's another thing. If I had more eggs I could mix up a custard—two aren't enough. I'll slip over to Laura's the back way and get some eggs. I hate to borrow, but I must."

Polly got the eggs and went home unseen by Jim in the library.

"That poor child," said Laura, "is in an awful fix. Cornelia Graham, that rich cousin of theirs, has just come and their house is a mess. Can't you do something to help them out, Jim?"

"Do you mean that girl that was here last summer?"

"Yes."

"By Jove, you don't say! You bet I'll help them out. I'll telephone right away and ask her to lunch and the theater this afternoon."

When Jim called at the Loves' a workman had put a ladder across the front door, so he went around back. Polly was at the stove getting their own lunch the best she could. She was lifting a saucepan from the fire when she heard Jim's voice. She turned quickly, the pan humped against the high oven and the whole thing turned upside down on the floor at her feet.

She was tired, hot and excited, company had come on top of confusion, and here was a nun at the kitchen door whose good opinion she valued very much and who, she knew, was very fastidious. Yet Polly giggled!

"You two get out of here!" she laughed, "and I'll clean up this mess. No, of course you can't help. I've got corn all over my shoes."

When they had gone, Polly called: "Mother, can you come here? Mother!" There were tears of pain in her eyes now.

"I—I spilled the corn and it was hot. Some of it went on my foot and it—hurts."

Jim came in at six.

"Sny, Laura, I take back what I said about a mixed disposition this morning."

"What! So soon?"

"Yes. I've had a taste of them all this afternoon, everything from January to December. I've been scorched and frozen in turn until I am numb."

"Then you don't think incessant sun so bad? Speaking of which, I have some news, Polly's in the hospital! She spilled something hot on her feet and scolded herself dreadfully."

Then something happened to James Porterfield Morgan. He thought of Polly standing at the stove and laughing through her agony.

"Dear little Polly," he muttered. "What a fool I've been!"

"Where are you going, Jim?" called Laura.

"To the hospital to hunt some sunshine," he answered. "I'm thinking it would be a good thing to have it handy for the rest of my life."

RAISING TOMATO CROP

Important That Large Stalky Plants Be Used.

Well-Prepared Fertile Soil Is Necessary and Transplant in Such Manner as to Insure Minimum Check in Growth.

(By N. EDGEMONT Michman.)
The tomato is essentially a seed bed plant. To secure a long period of ripening the seed must be sown in forcing beds several weeks in advance of the time, when it may safely be set in the open field. Our rule is from eight to ten weeks.

To secure profitable crops in the northern latitudes it is essential that large stalky plants be used and that they be set in a well-prepared, fertile soil, the transplanting being done in such a manner as to insure the minimum check in growth.

Plant Trained to Three Stems.

Two or three transplantings while in plant beds are essential to secure short, strong, stalky plants with a compact, fibrous root system.

In transplanting we move a chunk of earth about four inches square with each plant. We make rows three and a half or four feet apart and space the plants 15 to 18 inches in the row.

Each plant is confined to a single branch and trained to a stake. Strong twine is used to secure the plant to the stake, one such support being used just below each cluster.

The string is first made secure to the stake, a single knot will usually answer and then the stalk inclosed, a double knot being necessary in this case. Ample allowance should be made for subsequent growth of stalks.

A lateral will appear at each leaf joint and these must be removed at once in order that the entire strength of the plant be directed into the growing of the single stalk and the development of the fruit cluster thereon.

In our own experience we have found that this method of culture has decided advantage over other methods. First, a gain is made in securing early maturity of fruits; second, the fruit is larger and finer in quality.

While there are not so many individual fruits as where permitted to branch freely, there is a gain in size and a very decided gain in the number of perfect specimens.

The fruit being held suspended, the influence of the sun's rays reaches every portion of its surface, resulting in higher and more perfect coloring.

Training Plants by Use of Frames. than is ever secured when the fruit comes in contact with the ground or its mulched surface.

Furthermore, air and sunlight have free access to every portion of leaf surface, promoting activity in cellular tissues and health in these tissues as well. We found that grown by this method there is scarcely any inclination toward rotting in the fruit.

To secure the greatest benefit from this method through earlier maturing fruit it is essential that the plants be extra large and strong.

PROTECT TOOLS FROM RUST

Mixture of Lard and Common Resin is Recommended—Apply Thin Coating to Surface.

It is a hard matter to keep the tools that have been laid away for the winter from rusting, and any remedy ought to be welcomed by the farmer. The following has been recommended, and there does not seem to be any reason why it should not do the work:

Take a quantity of good lard, add about two ounces of common resin, melt them slowly together, stirring as they cool. This may be applied with a brush or a cloth, just enough to give a thin coating to the metal surface to be protected.

Nearly Smothered.

Chandler, N. C.—Mrs. Augusta Lomax, of this place, writes: "I had smothering spells every day, so bad I expected death any time. I could not sit up in bed. I suffered from womanly troubles. My nerves were twisting. I had almost given up all hope of ever being better. I tried Cardui and it did me more good than anything I had ever taken. I am better now than I ever expected to be." Thousands of ladies have written similar letters, telling of the merits of Cardui. It relieved their headache, backache and misery, just as it will relieve yours, if you will let it. Try Cardui.—Advertisement.

BIDDERS IN THE CITY

To Seek Contracts On the New County Roads Next Tuesday.

The Christian County Road Commission will open bids next Tuesday, July 18, for the construction of eighty-five miles of new and rebuilt pike in this county. The roads to be improved are the Madisonville, Fairview, Lafayette, Clarksville, Nashville and Princeton, and on each the pike is to be extended to the county line. Most of these roads have already been piked most of the distance, but this is all to be worked over and made new, and where there is now no pike new pike outright is to be built. All the work is to be done under state aid and according to plans and specifications, approved by the state good roads departments. This is the first lot of contracts to be offered to be paid for out of the $400,000 bond issue voted in March and sold recently. Other roads are now being surveyed and as fast as the plans are approved the contracts for these will also be let. A number of prospective bidders are already in the city and are going over the roads to be built.

HEAT FLASHES, DIZZY, NERVOUS

Mrs. Wynn Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her During Change of Life.

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizziness, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNN, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness.

For these abnormal conditions do not fail to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Card To Farmers Relating To The Proposed Reorganization of Tobacco Association.

TO THE TOBACCO GROWERS OF CHRISTIAN COUNTY:

Since my former letter, addressed as above, published in the Kentuckian several weeks ago, many farmers of the county have been to me with expressions of appreciation and approval, and I find that much discussion and exchange of ideas have been going on among them as to the best method of organization, etc., and in these exchanges of ideas and suggestions I have been much benefited and enlightened on the subject. Especially do I make special note of the objections raised by the tobacco growers, the old method that was adopted in the old organization—many that should be corrected, I admit.

As stated in my former letter, the experience gained in the conduct and management of the Old Organization will prove of great value in avoiding the many mistakes that were made. One of the greatest objections I encounter, is this: that they have a fear that not enough tobacco will be pledged or pooled to bring about fair, reasonable and living prices. They seem to have great fear that so many of the larger growers will stay out of the organization with the hope that enough tobacco will be pledged to enhance the price, and that they can sit silently by and receive all the benefits that the organization would bring about, and yet be in a position to dicker with the Trust and actually get more for their tobacco than if they were in the organization, and those who expressed this fear point to many instances of where this was done under the old organization, but I assure them that I do not believe any such selfishness as this will ever be displayed again, for these larger growers have had an object lesson that proves beyond any question that the tobacco growers must organize in order to protect themselves. They realize that the Tobacco Trust or Tobacco Organization is out for the money that they can make out of it and will get the tobacco just as cheap as the circumstances will admit, and through the power of their organization or trust, or whatever you may desire to call it.

I have talked to many of the larger tobacco growers, and I find them almost to a man ready, willing and anxious to protect themselves by organization and want to see it placed upon high, broad and business lines. In short, I find on close investigation that 90 per cent of the members of the Old Organization realize the importance of another organization, and are anxious, ready and willing to go into another union, but with this fear herein mentioned they feel that those who failed and refused to help the Old Organization (but received the benefit just the same) should now come forward and take the lead, and when they do, the old members will almost in solid body, follow their leadership.

Inasmuch as the old members are anxious to go in again, this alone ought to be almost a conclusive argument as to the benefits to be derived. They are not guessing at results, but are speaking from actual facts and experience.

Now, my farmer friends, and tobacco growers, for I am one of you: why will you hesitate to take this leadership, and place us where we can get our just dues for our toil and endurance that it takes to grow tobacco?

In conclusion, I want to say that every pledge signed will contain a provision that unless eighty-five thousand acres ($5,000) of tobacco is pledged, the pledge signed will not be binding. This certainly should satisfy any "Doubting Thomas."

Your friend,
DAVID SMITH.

Isn't their opinion and example worthy of your consideration?

WILSON SIGNS ROADS BILL

Authorizes Expenditures Of $85,000,000 In Five Years.

Washington, July 12.—President Wilson today signed the good roads bill recently passed by congress authorizing the expenditure of $85,000,000 in five years by the federal government on condition that states expend amounts similar to those apportioned to him. The signing was witnessed by members of the senate and house and representatives of farmers' organizations.

Officials of the American Automobile association and the Association of State Highway Officials also were present. In addition to the money to be spent in co-operation with the state $10,000,000 is provided for roads in federal reserves.

Obedience and Team Work.

Only in a few American homes is prompt obedience required. Only to a limited degree is the habit of prompt obedience cultivated in the school. The boys have done something to cultivate the spirit of team work by their voluntary athletics; but only a minority get this training. Organized industry does something to compel team work, but not much to inspire it. Corporations and labor unions do something to develop it, but it is team work for a class, not for the community. It is not easy to conceive of anything which would do more to develop these two needed virtues—prompt obedience and team work—than universal military service. General Wood tells us that in this country the murder rate is 124 per million; in Switzerland it is 12 per million. What is the cause of this difference? One cause is the American vice of self will. What is the remedy for this defect? One valuable remedy would be the soldier's habit of respect for authority and of regard for the comrade at his side.—Outlook.

FAIRCOURT ADDITION

Another Southside Lot Sale
By The Newbury Realty
Co. On July 18.

B. P. Sandlin, of the Newbury Realty Co., in conjunction with local parties, is preparing to place on the market the elegant piece of property just outside of the city, on Virginia street, known as the Latham property. It is now owned by S. Y. Trimble. Mr. Sandlin's Company, the Newbury Realty and Auction Co., of North Carolina, made a very successful sale on the southside last month and Mr. Trimble arranged for the Company to sell his property July 18. The tract of 40 acres has been platted into 38 lots of nearly an acre each. A fifty foot street to be called Faircourt makes three sides of a square through the property, Virginia street making the fourth of this court. The lots are beautifully situated, just opposite the Pennyroyal Fair grounds.

To make the sale interesting to all who attend, a Shetland pony will be given away to those attending and everybody has an equal chance to win it, no matter whether you buy a lot or not.

There will be music by a first-class band all the day and automobiles will take the crowd to and from the grounds. Every indication points to the sale being a success.

DOES WHEAT MAKE MONEY FOR THE CHRISTIAN CO. FARMERS?

There seems to be an argument as to whether or not wheat is a profitable crop in Western Kentucky under the present unfavorable conditions, etc. "I have interviewed a number of farmers, large and small, on this subject," says A. M. Casey, and the "general opinion is that there is no money in raising wheat in Western Kentucky. But, some of the farmers have the machinery to sow and reap, and are in the 'habit.'" Some small farmers say they raise it to get their flour, while the flour can be purchased cheaper than the wheat can be raised to make it. It costs $12.00 and over on an average to grow an acre of wheat in this county; the average yield this year is about 8 bushels, this at $1.00 per bushel is $8.00 for 8 bushels or in other words, $8.00 gross per acre. The farmer is out his labor, the plant food required to produce wheat; wear and tear on machinery and sacks, men, women and stock. Wheat needs attention at a time when corn, tobacco, alfalfa, clover, hay and other profitable crops need attention. Raising wheat under the present unfavorable conditions, at the present price, will in time, ruin the farmers who persist in the practice of summer fallowing for wheat. If the land must be broken this summer, sow red clover, crimson clover, alfalfa and orchard grass. The clover will improve the land, while wheat does not, on the other hand it uses plant food and makes no returns."

Parents of 19 Boys.

Corning, Ark., July 10.—Frank Scott and wife, of Kensett, have been married ten years. Nineteen boys have been born to them, all living with the exception of six, who died at birth. Of the 13 living there are three sets of triplets and two sets of twins. The parents have been partial to the letter A in naming them. Ashbell, Archer and Austin, are 4½ years old; Arthur and Arnold, 3½; Allen, Almond and Albin, 2½; Alfred, Albion and Adolph, 18 months and Abel and Abner, 6 months.

Germany's Latest

There is another gigantic scheme on foot in Germany for the formation of a transatlantic Zeppelin freight and passenger service. The first airship, one of the new type of super-Zeppelins, will arrive at an American port some time the middle of August, if the plans now under consideration materialize. Its name will be Z-Deutschland.

Like the U-boat Deutschland, the Zeppelin of the same name will carry a cargo of dyes, chemicals, mails and possibly some passengers to the United States.

Case In Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., July 12.—Kentucky's first case of infantile paralysis was reported shortly after noon Saturday to Dr. Edward Grant, health officer, by Drs. C. W. Karraker and Carl Weidner who stated that Dorothy Swisher, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swisher, of 652 North Twenty-sixth street, had contracted the disease.

The baby's condition is not serious, as it is not even confined to bed, but every precaution is being taken to prevent a spread of the infection.

MUST RESPECT SOVEREIGNTY OF U. S.

Toledo, O., July 12.—The "United States will go to war only in case of unmistakable necessity," said President Wilson in a short rear platform talk here. He was introduced by Congressman Sherwood, a preparedness opponent. President Wilson, in beginning, said he was sorry to find Sherwood opposed to him on this question because, he said, "in advocating preparedness I have not been advocating hostility."

Touching upon the Mexican question, he said, "Our rights, border citizens and our sovereignty must be respected. We will respect Mexico's sovereignty in return."

Youngest of Generals in Great War are British.

(London Cable Dispatch in New York World.)

"From carefully compiled statistics," says the Morning Post, "it appears that in the British, French and German armies the youngest Generals occupying high commands at the present moment are the British and the oldest the German. The average age of the British is 53.9 years; that of the French 60.9 years, and of the Germans 63.5 years.

"If, however, we exclude from the General list the royal Generals, of whom there are a good many, the average age of the men occupying high commands in the German army is 65.66. Von Mackensen is 71, Von Hindenburg 69, Von Falkenhayn 72, Von Kluck 70, Von Buelow 70, Von Woyrsch 69, Von Eichhorn 69 and Von Beseler 66."

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH 97

Fine Young Manager of the Oldest Business in the City.

S. L. PEACE.

To E. L. Foulks, now in the 95th year of his age, belongs the honor of being the oldest business man in Hopkinsville and his coal business established in 1870 is the oldest in the city, conducted without change of location. For the last six years it has been conducted by Shelby L. Peace, grandson of the founder of the business. Mr. Peace was born in Hopkinsville Nov. 11, 1885, a son of W. H. Peace, for 35 years a valued employee of the L. & N. Railroad Co. Shelby graduated from the Hopkinsville High School in 1902 and found a railroad job waiting for him. He was sent to Earlinton as yardman, where he remained in the service of the L. & N. one year, when he came back to Hopkinsville and from 1903 to 1906 was cashier and ticket agent in the local office. In 1907 he was sent to Springfield, Tenn., as agent for one year. The same year he was married. In 1908 and 1909 he resided in Philadelphia as cashier in a brokerage office and in 1910 returned to Kentucky as a traveling representative of the Nebo Consolidated Coal & Coke Co. While thus engaged the health of his uncle, the late T. M. Foulks, at that time manager of the Foulks coal business, became impaired and Mr. Peace gave up his traveling position to become an assistant to his uncle. This was in the fall of 1910. In a little while the trained and capable young business man became general manager of the business, which has during the last six years increased nearly 100 per cent and is still growing. He is now in entire charge of the business established by his grandfather 46 years ago, the year that the L. & N. Railroad entered Hopkinsville.

Mr. Peace handles the best grades of coal and puts the coal through a rehandling process, forking and hand-picking, after which it becomes his own brand of "Foulkscoal." In addition he handles anthracite coal and coke. At this season of the year he makes a specialty of selling annual supplies of coal at greatly reduced rates.

Mr. Peace has two fine boys who will be on hand when a fourth generation is needed to keep the business going. They are chips off the old block and one of them as a two-year-old took the first prize in the baby show at the Pennyroyal Fair three years ago.

The only thing that takes Mr. Peace's attention from his coal business and his family is the Methodist church, of which he is a useful member.
